Message from the Mayor

Cllr Smangaliso Mgenge - Mayor

As we enter a new term as the uMfolozi Municipal Council for the 2016-2021 municipal term; the newly elected council will follow and strengthen the values of its previous predecessors. The communities of uMfolozi trusted every new member of this council to deliver on the promise of creating a better home for them.

This Council will build on the solid foundation left behind by the previous administration, by fulfilling our mission of being a municipality that is innovative, governed accordingly and has a clear vision of developing the lives of the people of uMfolozi.

Our vision is clear that we need to fully address poverty through economic growth by attracting investors into our small municipality, equipping our residents with skills and creating job opportunities. We believe that through a strategy focused on poverty alleviation through skills and economic development that we can create a better life for all residents of uMfolozi.

We will also tackle the triple challenges of unemployment, poverty and inequality, continue to develop and maintain our infrastructure, educate and develop our youth and create a safe community for women and children.

We thank the people of our great municipality for trusting us with their vote and we will work hard to make sure that this Council fulfills its mandate and move uMfolozi forward.

Message from the Municipal Manager

Mr Khulumowakhe Gamede - Municipal Manager

The 2016 Local Government elections within the uMfolozi Municipality were once again free and fair. The elections proved that in South Africa we are a true democratic nation that stays true to the core values of the Constitution of our Republic.

The uMfolozi Municipality welcomes the new council which has been chosen by the people of our great community. The residents have placed their faith in every member of this council and trusted that they will indeed represent the needs of their communities accordingly within the Municipal Council. Change is always inevitable and welcomed for good governance to always prevail and communities to receive good service delivery at local level. The men and women whom have been elected have dedicated themselves to bringing change to their communities.

As we usher in the new term it is in the agenda of this council to tackle the triple challenges of unemployment, poverty and inequality in our municipality. Equipping our young people with skills is also one of our objectives as lack of skills and unemployment go hand in hand, in continuing the cycle of poverty, especially amongst our youth. Infrastructure development, job creation and bringing services closer to our residents are of prime importance to this council.

The uMfolozi Municipality welcomes this Council whom have dedicated themselves to moving uMfolozi forward.

Arbor Week Roadshow Educates Learners

The uMfolozi Municipality played host to the Arbor Week Roadshows as it celebrated Arbor month from 6 - 13th September 2016.

The roadshows highlighted the importance of caring and protecting the environment. The aim of these roadshows was to educate the learners on the theme for 2016: Forest and Water. This included information on indigenous, drought resistant tree species and water-wise gardening. Learners were also educated about the trees of the year 2016: Ficus thonningii-Wild Fig, Maerua spp- Bush Cherry, Maerua angolensis-Big Bean Tree. The roadshow stressed the importance to preserve indigenous plant species and undo the damage that invader alien species have done to the earth surrounding the communities of uMfolozi.

The Department of Agriculture, Forestry and Fisheries donated 250 trees (200 indigenous trees and 50 fruit trees) for schools which were part of the roadshows. The stakeholder task team helped in planting the trees in schools in ward 11 and neighbouring schools in ward 15. Other gifts such as buckets for the classrooms, water bottles, maths set, and school bags were also presented to the schools and learners.

Sports Drives the Youth of uMfolozi

The uMfolozi Municipality will be actively participating in the Local Salga Games which has in the recent years proved to have captured the hearts of the youth in all communities in the municipality. This was evident when the uMfolozi representative won the Junior Phase of the jump rope competition at the King Cesthwayo District Elimination Games held at the uMhlatuze Regional Sports Complex.

The young sports men and women of uMfolozi competed with 1245 other athletes from four other local municipalities of Nkandla, Mthonjaneni, uMlalazi and the City of uMhlatuze. The youth battled it out to make the King Cesthwayo squad in various sports codes which included boxing, cricket, chess, dance, football, indigenous games, karate, netball, rugby, swimming, table tennis and Volleyball..

The uMfolozi Municipality recognises that sports development keeps the youth active and away from bad behaviour such as alcohol, crime and teen pregnancy which often contribute to the high levels of unemployment and school dropouts. It is for this reason that the municipality has budgeted R1 000 000 for the 2016 / 17 budget year towards sports engagement programmes.

The arts and culture in our country is considered to be the "new gold" which has the potential to increase economic growth and create jobs in South Africa. The department will also help finance small start-up businesses to interested youth.

these momentous examinations which have the potential to open the doors to their future careers. Mayor Mgenge also encouraged the community to assist teachers in helping the learners prepare themselves for the exam, "Teaching our children is not only reserved for our teachers but the entire community must play a role in making sure that we create capable matriculants who will be able to compete in the real world," said the Mayor.

uMfolozi Mayor Wishes the Matriculates of 2016 well

It is that time of the year again when our matriculants sit for their final examinations after a long and hard year of studying. Matric is the time for all learners to reflect on their schooling careers and plan for their future careers. Learners should also be proud to sit for this exam because many students did not complete the schooling cycle.

Education is the key to unlocking the doors of freedom to a brighter future, so that the vision of every matriculant should have no boundaries as to what can be achieved.

I urge parents, guardians and family members to give our matriculants a chance to study and prepare for this career defining examinations.

We support the matric class of 2016.

Good Luck!

Municipal Manager Mr Khulumowakhe Gamede said it was time for men to spearhead the campaign to end violence against women and children in our communities, "We must be the ones protecting our women and young girls from predators who choose to harm and expose them to diseases," said Mr Gamede.

"A good man needs a good male role model to be able to thrive and fight for a just and better community," said Pastor Sithole. The Pastor continued that men must be protectors and providers for their families in order to be a good leader for the community.

The representative from the Department of Health Mr MP Zulu encouraged the men to take extra care of their health and not become reckless in drinking alcohol. "In order to live a long and productive life, men must also engage in physical activity such as sports and eat the right kind of food," he said. Mr Zulu continued to encourage the men to practice safe sex even with their wives in order to reduce the risk of diseases. "Circumcision is a wonderful strategy for our government to curb the spread of HIV/AIDS and sexually transmitted diseases. However circumcision alone does not stop the spread of such disease but practicing safe sex is a proven method of truly protecting your family," said Zulu. Mr Zulu added that men must also be champions in testing for HIV/AIDS in order to start ARV's they have tested positive. Mr Zulu said once a person tests positive for HIV they will now automatically start taking the ARV course.

His worship Cllr Smanga Mgenge said men must go back to being worthy leaders in their homes by being good fathers to their children. uMfolozi Traditional Healers Indaba a Success uMfolozi Municipality held a two day Traditional Healers Indaba to strengthen relations between Traditional Healers, Community Care Givers, the Department of Health and its residents. This was done to teach the community of uMfolozi about regulations on traditional healers and western medicine.

More than 200 Traditional Health Practitioners attended the two day event which took place at the Bay Show Inn in Richards Bay as well as Mabuyeni in ward 7. The Health Practitioners young and old from all works of life discussed ways to fully integrate traditional medicine with the community and educate people about the advantages of incorporating traditional medicine into their lives.

The Indaba also debated ways traditional healers can be incorporated into the public health system so that traditional health practitioners can work closely with clinical health practitioners thus strengthening referral links between healers and health facilities in cases where patients may be living with HIV, TB or chronic illnesses like high blood pressure.

Municipal Manager Mr Khulumowakhe Gamede said traditional and clinical practitioners need to find ways to work together so that the public can be exposed to the best treatments both African and Western medicines have to offer. "The first medical point of contact for many people in our communities is a traditional healer and then their will go to the local clinic or hospital. This shows that there is indeed a demand for both traditional and clinical practitioners to having a good working relationship to benefit the communities they both serve," said Gamede.

The traditional healers condemned fake healers who use traditional medicine to further bad intentions of their "customers". The traditional healers made a resolution to teach the public to recognise Fake healers and not to continue going to these "healers".

The indaba ended with both the Municipality and stakeholders agreeing to meet regularly in order to participate in and improve community health.

New Director of Corporate Service Ms Nonhlanhla Ziphokuhle Ndlela.

Ms Nonhlanhla Ziphokuhle Ndlela has been appointed Director of Corporate Services. Ms Ndlela holds Bachelors qualifications in Human Resources and Industrial Psychology and a Honours Degree in Public Administration. She has an impressive track record in Corporate Services and has extensive local government experience.

Ms Ndlela joins the uMfolozi Municipality after having successfully served the UMkhanyakude District Municipality as General Manager of Corporate Services. While working under the District of UKDM, Ms Ndlela gained valuable experience and working knowledge of how the water services authority operates and the significant role corporate services play in ensuring that service delivery standards are met to better serve the community.

Director Ndlela started her career at local municipal level where she served as a Committee Clerk. Her focus, dedication and drive saw her steadily moving through the ranks within the local municipality. Her management potential was quickly recognised by senior management which then saw her being appointed Manager: Council Support within a few years. Her excellent work ethic and ability to manage tasks assigned to her, led to her being appointed Director: Corporate Services which gave her the necessary foundation and skills to work for a District Municipality. Ms Ndlela's move to take up her current position at uMfolozi Local Municipality was influenced by her decision to spend more time with her family and live closer to her home. As a working mother raising two daughters and a son, Ms Ndlela knows the crucial role the family unit plays in childhood development.

Director Ndlela's appointment at uMfolozi Municipality will be to define the roles and responsibilities of the Corporate Services Department in the local government sector. Director Ndlela explained that the role of Corporate Services in a Municipality is to ensure that the municipality operates effectively and efficiently and that each and every employee within the municipality understands his/her role and the valuable contribution that they make towards the attainment of the organizational strategic objectives.

Corporate Services also ensures that staff are given the necessary support to expand their skillsets and capabilities so that they can deliver on the municipality's mandate. "I am passionate about unleashing the full potential of every single individual who works in uMfolozi, while also creating projects which will help to sharpen the skills of our community members. I believe that each and every employee, regardless of their positions can help the organization to achieve its constitutional mandate which is to deliver services to the communities. Being a Human Resources Practitioner and Industrial Psychologist by profession; I will be able to recommend strategic solutions hindering employees from achieving their individual developmental goals," said Director Ndlela.

Director Ndlela applies an inclusive and interactive management approach which according to her assists in developing and maintaining winning teams. Within her first week in office; she arranged briefing sessions with her departmental management team which will culminate into a departmental briefing session. This will also assist her to get to know people she will be working with and them getting to know her as the "Captain of the Ship". The information gathered during the briefing sessions will assist her in developing a departmental turnaround plan outlining the projects and programmes that will be completed within 100 days of her being appointed to head the Department. Since Corporate Services is a support department; some of the projects and programmes will cut across all departments, therefore; she will be working closely with the management team of the Municipality. She firmly believes that UMfolozi Municipality has a potential to grow as it has a youthful staff complement and a drive to make a tremendous difference to the lives of the communities of uMfolozi Municipality.

Lastly, Director Ndlela is thankful to the Council of uMfolozi Municipality for affording her the opportunity of being part of its dynamic senior management team. She pledged her commitment to providing strategic support and advice to Council particularly on compliance and policy issues and in ensuring that the vision of the Municipality which is "To provide service delivery that creates a better life for all" is achieved.
